Current mission statement, brief description of how it was developed, and date of last review

The development of the Master of Science of Counseling mission statement was developed and adjusted as the program aspired to meet CACREP standards. During the development, the committee working on the project met and developed the mission statement that aligned with the University's mission while demonstrating the program's mission to develop professionally, ethically, and spiritually competent counselors.

During the development and adapting of the program mission statement, great care has been employed to ensure the statement reflects the program's objective of preparing students professionally and spiritually in the field.

The most recent revision of the program's mission statement was completed February 18, 2022 because of some changes to the areas of counseling the program no longer offers for training and development of students in the program.

Standard 3: Student Learning, Development, and Success

The standards used in this program review come from the Council for the Advancement of Standards in Higher Education. (2019). CAS self-assessment guide for Assessment Services. Washington, DC.

Standard 3: Student Learning, Development, and Success

Overview Questions:

1. What are the most significant student learning, development, and success outcomes of the academic program?
2. What is the demonstrated impact of the academic program on student learning, development, and success?

The demonstrated impact of the program is evidenced by the feedback provided from Site Supervisors of the Practicum and Internship sites where our students completed their Practicum and Internship Field Experience. (found in folder)

The evaluation average for the last three years has shown students on a four scale rating come out of their field experience averaging 3.54-3.63 on the overall impact of their field experience. Comments that Site Supervisors make about the students range from they are a good researcher to they are able to apply counseling skills effectively. Overall, it appears that the students are able to have an overarching all encompassing approach to the counseling they are doing at these sites due to their training and experiences prior to going to their sites.

3.1 Program Curriculum Map

- Minimum requirement to meet substandard: Provide a copy of the program's Curriculum Map. The Curriculum Map shows what student learning outcomes (SLOs) or Operational Outcomes (OOs) could be measured in each course within the program to support the program's outcomes (POs).
  - The Curriculum Map is in the folder
    - The Curriculum Map demonstrates the areas that students' learning outcomes have been measured over the last three years. There were no major changes over the last three years. They were measured through the courses listed on the Curriculum Map and reviewed in the Spring and Fall of each year, providing insight as to how the students are doing in each of the outcome areas.
      - A plan is being established and will begin by September of 2022 for the next three years to incorporate the electronic record keeping software, Tevera, to track the outcomes for the courses and have the Professors complete the learning outcomes when they teach the courses.
  - Additional information about the substandard: If a major change to the program's curriculum or POs occurred in the last three years, provide evidence and explanations of why those changes were made.

3.2 Assessment of Student Learning and Development

- Minimum requirement to meet substandard: The program uses evidence to create strategies for improving student learning, development, and success through Learning Reports.
  - In 2020 the process to implement the revision of courses in the Master of Mental Health Counseling Program began through ongoing discussions and planning between the Chair and Program Director. The plan to revise the courses began and was completed in 2021 for the Master of Mental Health Counseling Program. The Program revised the courses from seven weeks to six weeks. In the process of this revision, courses were written to meet the rigorous requirements of a Master in Mental Health Counseling Program without eliminating important details to meet standards of the Higher Learning Commission. Careful consideration was given to this process to ensure a quality education for Master in Mental Health Counseling students.

- Additional information about the substandard:
  - The program has POs that guide what program graduates should know and/or do.
    - The PO and SLO are noted:

Standard 4: Assessment

The standards used in this program review come from the Council for the Advancement of Standards in Higher Education. (2019). CAS self-assessment guide for Assessment Services. Washington, DC.

Standard 4: Assessment

Overview Questions:

1. What is the comprehensive assessment strategy for the academic program?
2. What are priorities for assessment of the academic program and how are those developed?
3. How are tangible, measurable learning, development, success, and program outcomes determined to ensure achievement of mission and goals?
4. How does the academic program use assessment results to inform improvement? What changes, adjustments, or improvements have been made as a result of assessment activities?
5. How does the academic program share assessment results with relevant constituencies?
6. How does the academic program support ongoing development of assessment competencies for personnel?

4.1 Establishing a Culture of Assessment

- Minimum requirement to meet substandard: Display assessment plans that work towards the achievement of the program's mission, goals, outcomes, and objectives.
- Additional information about the substandard: Display the past three years of evidence for:
  - Faculty evaluations
    - The Faculty for the Master in Mental Health counseling program review of faculty is conducted to (1) assess and document levels of faculty performance, (2) identify areas of needed and desired professional growth, (3) identify progress being made by faculty, and (4) facilitate internal communication.
    - Steps in the Review Process - the faculty will (1) maintain an ongoing portfolio of annual activities that evidence performance in teaching, scholarship, and service, (2) conduct a self-assessment for the year; set goals for the next year; and submit to the dean by indicated deadline, and (3) engage in conference with School Chair, Associate Dean, and Vice President of Academic Affairs (VPAA) for annual review based on set goals.
  - WIGs
    - The Masters of Mental Health Counseling has Wildly Important Goals (WIGS) to improve communication between the administration and the faculty and ensure that all faculty feel equipped and encouraged in their role within the teaching of the program courses. ** This includes improved communication between the Chair, Program Director, Core Faculty, other departments in the University, and adjunct faculty. The improvement plan includes weekly emails from the Program Director to all faculty, ongoing professional development training offered on a quarterly basis. Part of that ongoing Professional Development is to include teachings to the program faculty by other departments in the university to learn more about some of the other department roles for the students at MACU

- End of Course (EoC) results
  - The end of course evaluations demonstrate that the majority of students appreciate the communication, prompt grading, and encouragement from professors. The evaluations also demonstrate that students would like to have regular communication through zoom meetings with their professors. The feedback about zoom meetings was noted and addressed through Professors offering zoom meetings as part of their willingness to meet with students. Each professor also began to offer a zoom meeting in the first week of the course to go over any questions students might have that first week. Feedback from professors has been that the zoom meeting being offered in the first week has been met with mixed reviews - with some professors reporting they have one student attending and other professors saying they have 5 or more students attending.

  - Retention Reports

4.2 Assessment Plan and Process

- Minimum requirement to meet substandard: Show how the program reviews, interprets, and monitors changes based on findings of assessment from multiple measures of data collection.
  - A goal was set to email all faculty in the program on a weekly basis to improve communication with administration and faculty. Without exception, this goal was met and maintained over the last three years. Many of the faculty have sent emails to administration to say how much they appreciate the communication and interaction.
- Additional information about the substandard:
  - The program identifies goals, outcomes, and objectives to guide its work.
  - The program engages students, faculty, staff, administrators, and other relevant constituents in assessment activities.

4.3 Reporting Results and Implementing Improvement

- Minimum requirement to meet substandard: The program uses evidence from assessment activities to inform decision-making and planning for continuous improvement.
- Additional information about the substandard:
  - The program uses assessment results to demonstrate learning, development, effectiveness and continuous improvement.
  - The program informs constituents of assessment results and how data have been used for continuous improvement.

Suggested Evidence and Documentation:

1. Academic program goals, key indicators, outcomes, and related assessment data
2. Assessment data related to student learning, development, and success outcomes
3. Assessment plans and annual reports
4. Minutes of meetings at which assessment activities and results are discussed ** Emailed Dorothy on 03042022 for these minutes
5. Professional development activities to improve assessment competence

Current mission statement, brief description of how it was developed, and date of last review

The development of the Master of Science of Counseling mission statement was developed and adjusted as the program aspired to meet CACREP standards. During the development, the committee working on the project met and developed the mission statement that aligned with the University's mission while demonstrating the program's mission to develop professionally, ethically, and spiritually competent counselors.

During the development and adapting of the program mission statement, great care has been employed to ensure the statement reflects the program's objective of preparing students professionally and spiritually in the field.

The most recent revision of the program's mission statement was completed February 18, 2022 because of some changes to the areas of counseling the program no longer offers for training and development of students in the program.

TITLE IX TRAINING

March 13, 2018

Title IX Training

What is Title IX?

- No person in the United States shall, on the basis of sex, be excluded from participation in, be denied the benefits of, or be subjected to discrimination under any education program or activity receiving Federal financial assistance.

Who is protected?

- Any student, faculty or staff member is protected under this policy from any student, faculty or staff member or third-party vendor

Title IX Training

What is prohibited under this policy?

- Sex/Gender Discrimination
- Sexual Harassment
- Sexual Assault
- Domestic and dating violence

Who is required to report?

- All faculty and staff members are considered required reporters. The regulation says any person to whom a student would reasonably believe they can report to is considered a “responsible employee” and therefore is required to report information received.

How do I make a report?

- To make a report, contact a member of the Title IX team who will be able to take your report and initiate a preliminary investigation process.
- Students, faculty and staff may make a Title IX report at any time after the event. There is no statute of limitations on making a university report because the process is separate and distinct from any criminal processes.

Are victims required to report?

- Under Title IX, victims are not required to report. However, their unwillingness to make a report does not absolve you of your responsibility to report suspected violations of the Title IX policy.
- It is important to note that victims can make a report to the university without making a criminal report. The university is required to take immediate action on any reports received, including a report that involves an unwilling complainant.
- However, their unwillingness to report does not absolve faculty or staff of their responsibility to report suspected violations of the Title IX policy.

Title IX Training

What is at stake for MACU?

- Undesirable, offensive environment
- Funding
- Unwelcome media attention

Who is my Title IX team?

- Jessica Rimmer, Title IX Coordinator, jessica.rimmer@macu.edu; 405-692-3275
- Darwina Marshall, Assistant Coordinator, darwina.marshall@macu.edu;
- 405-692-3196
- Jacob Pool, Chief of Police, Investigator, Jacob.pool@macu.edu; 405-692-3287
- Blake Carlson, Investigator, blake.carlson@macu.edu; 405-692-8240
- Mark Pickens, Investigator, mark.pickens@macu.edu; 405-692-3117
- Raymond Dillman, Investigator, ray.dillman@macu.edu; 405-692-3147
- Justin Gordon, Investigator, justin.gordon@macu.edu; 405-692-3252

What about confidentiality? (Licensed counselor, pastor, etc.)

- Under Title IX, the federal government only considers exemption from report to be applicable for counselors or pastors who are hired by the college specifically for that job function. Therefore, counselors who are hired to be faculty members would not exercise their counseling confidentiality exemption when receiving a report of sexual violence or harassment from a student in their class.

Media procedures and guidelines

The marketing department initiates, arranges, and approves all university marketing efforts. Attached are Mid America Christian Universities Branding Guide and Media Kit that outlines guidelines for creating and placing items representing the university. MACU uses several media sources to facilitate the institution’s brand awareness and potential student interest in any academic program. The marketing department uses Google AdWords, Microsoft Advertising, and Facebook (Meta) as the primary outlet for digital advertising. Media creative, AdWords, and content optimization are approved before placement by the marketing department to promote the most favorable post and ranking for MACU and ensure brand representation consistency. Before placement, traditional media (radio and outdoor) is also approved by the marketing department. A local media buyer represents the institution in soliciting favorable rates and schedules that provide the best reach and frequency for MACU exposure. All media insertion orders are approved and signed by the marketing department. Outdoor creative is also attached. MACU also engages in select events, conferences, and Expos that promote specific discipline and education – i.e., Hispanic Chamber of Commerce Expo, Women of Color Expo, Cooperative Council for Oklahoma School Administration Summer Leadership Conference.

2014 ACA Code of Ethics

As approved by the ACA Governing Council

AMERICAN COUNSELING
ASSOCIATION
counseling.org

ACA Code of Ethics Preamble

The American Counseling Association (ACA) is an educational, scientific, and professional organization whose members work in a variety of settings and serve in multiple capacities. Counseling is a professional relationship that empowers diverse individuals, families, and groups to accomplish mental health, wellness, education, and career goals.

Professional values are an important way of living out an ethical commitment. The following are core professional values of the counseling profession:

1. enhancing human development throughout the life span;
2. honoring diversity and embracing a multicultural approach in support of the worth, dignity, potential, and uniqueness of people within their social and cultural contexts;
3. promoting social justice;
4. safeguarding the integrity of the counselor–client relationship; and
5. practicing in a competent and ethical manner.

These professional values provide a conceptual basis for the ethical principles enumerated below. These principles are the foundation for ethical behavior and decision making. The fundamental principles of professional ethical behavior are

- autonomy, or fostering the right to control the direction of one’s life;
- nonmaleficence, or avoiding actions that cause harm;
- beneficence, or working for the good of the individual and society by promoting mental health and well-being;
- justice, or treating individuals equitably and fostering fairness and equality;
- fidelity, or honoring commitments and keeping promises, including fulfilling one’s responsibilities of trust in professional relationships; and
- veracity, or dealing truthfully with individuals with whom counselors come into professional contact.

ACA Code of Ethics Purpose

The ACA Code of Ethics serves six main purposes:

1. The Code sets forth the ethical obligations of ACA members and provides guidance intended to inform the ethical practice of professional counselors.
2. The Code identifies ethical considerations relevant to professional counselors and counselors-in-training.
3. The Code enables the association to clarify for current and prospective members, and for those served by members, the nature of the ethical responsibilities held in common by its members.
4. The Code serves as an ethical guide designed to assist members in constructing a course of action that best serves those utilizing counseling services and establishes expectations of conduct with a primary emphasis on the role of the professional counselor.
5. The Code helps to support the mission of ACA.
6. The standards contained in this Code serve as the basis for processing inquiries and ethics complaints concerning ACA members.

The ACA Code of Ethics contains nine main sections that address the following areas:

- Section A: The Counseling Relationship
- Section B: Confidentiality and Privacy
- Section C: Professional Responsibility
- Section D: Relationships With Other Professionals
- Section E: Evaluation, Assessment, and Interpretation
- Section F: Supervision, Training, and Teaching
- Section G: Research and Publication
- Section H: Distance Counseling, Technology, and Social Media
- Section I: Resolving Ethical Issues

Each section of the ACA Code of Ethics begins with an introduction. The introduction to each section describes the ethical behavior and responsibility to which counselors aspire. The introductions help set the tone for each particular section and provide a starting point that invites reflection on the ethical standards contained in each part of the ACA Code of Ethics. The standards outline professional responsibilities and provide direction for fulfilling those ethical responsibilities.

When counselors are faced with ethical dilemmas that are difficult to resolve, they are expected to engage in a carefully considered ethical decision-making process, consulting available resources as needed. Counselors acknowledge that resolving ethical issues is a process; ethical reasoning includes consideration of professional values, professional ethical principles, and ethical standards.

Counselors’ actions should be consistent with the spirit as well as the letter of these ethical standards. No specific ethical decision-making model is always most effective, so counselors are expected to use a credible model of decision making that can bear public scrutiny of its application. Through a chosen ethical decision-making process and evaluation of the context of the situation, counselors work collaboratively with clients to make decisions that promote clients’ growth and development. A breach of the standards and principles provided herein does not necessarily constitute legal liability or violation of the law; such action is established in legal and judicial proceedings.

The glossary at the end of the Code provides a concise description of some of the terms used in the ACA Code of Ethics.
